Judge Moran's Expungement Punch

We've never had a gala without serving the Judge's secret sauce! In this socially distant year, we're revealing the recipe so we can all share a glass together.

Here's to Justice! Here's to you!
Cheers!

2 cups gin
1½ tablespoons St. Germain elderflower liquor (Can substitute with St. Elder)
½ cup minus 2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup fresh lime juice
1½ cups mint tea
Splash of club soda
Ice cubes
1 pint strawberries
6 -8 whole limes (½ cup squeezed plus 2 for cutting)

Cut the strawberries and 2 limes into small pieces. Combine the gin and St. Germaine. Add 3 tablespoons each of strawberries and limes and set it aside to infuse the booze.

Brew the mint tea. While hot, add sugar and stir to melt. Refrigerate for about 5 minutes.

Pour the alcohol mixture through a strainer and remove the fruit. The liquid should be free of seeds and pulp.

Combine the tea mixture, alcohol and lime juice into a pitcher and lightly stir.

Serve in glasses over lots of ice. Add a splash of club soda and garnish with cut strawberries and limes.

Makes 10 servings.

The extra freezes well and makes a great Expungement Slushy!
